

Learning Hebrew in Jerusalem

2008- The 150th anniversary of the birth of Eliezer Ben Yehuda Summer Ulpan in Beit Ben Yehuda 4th-28th August 2008

Does it not seem natural to learn Hebrew in Beit Ben Yehuda, the house that once belonged to Eliezer Ben Yehuda, the reviver of spoken Hebrew?

In August 2008, the Beit Ben Yehuda is offering a language course on a beginner level with weekend trips and other activities to get to know Israel. The course is taught by a professional, experienced teacher and will not only give you an understanding of the language, but provide you with inside information of the Israeli culture, politics and history. The participants will be accommodated in the Guesthouse, which is located next to the German Colony and only a 30 minutes walk from the Old City. Afternoon activities like meeting a survivor of the Shoah, going to Yad Vashem and a guided tour through the Old City as well as meeting young Israeli students will be part of the program.
